Deepening Ties Among Young Adults

Sundays: Feb. 23, March 16, April 27, May 18; 12:30-2 p.m. at church

Register Here

Young Adults (a group intentionally loosely defined as anyone in their 20s or 30s) are one of the most diverse groups at First U. We come from all over, with rich but often unspoken experiences and histories shaping who we are and why we connect through the church. It feels like the right time to get to know each on a more meaningful level, but it's difficult to really get to know someone without more time... so we want to carve out the time! We're looking for a group of young adults who'd be interested in coming together once a month from Feb-May with the singular goal of getting to know each other beyond just the pleasantries and commonalities; We have some ideas to get a conversation started but hope you'll have ideas of your own for what would make it meaningful for all :) Facilitated by members Cameron Smither and Clare Roarty.

Second Sundays Lunch at Gigi's

Feb. 9, March 9, April 13, May 11; 12:15 p.m.

Continuing in care for one another as we experience the many facets of an ongoing global metacrisis, we will focus on holding one another in care while centering on the 7th principle: “respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part.” Opportunities to meet online and in-person will be arranged, and we will nurture relationships of mutual aid together with the more-than-human beloved community. Hosted by Gary Hoover, Environmental Justice Team

Speculative Fiction and Faith, with Rev. Jen

March 12; 7-8:15 p.m. Drop-In Breakout Group after Community Dinner

Rev. Jen writes: join me for this Community Dinner break-out session conversation. I'll share the reading list from my recent collegial study group, as well as quotes and ideas we can engage together, including:

- how speculative fiction, especially eco-queer narratives, offers insights into the creation and sustenance of beloved communities,
- the ways can the themes of environmental justice, queer identity, and speculative futures can inform our understanding and practice of community building,
- an exploration of how eco-queer speculative stories challenge and expand our notions of justice, equity, and compassion within the context of beloved community.

Authentic Selves Book Group (UU Common Read)

4 sessions in April/May; Register to express interest and be contacted about exact dates, TBD.
